This week we have been reading and listening to stories. We have enjoyed learning what food the hungry caterpillar ate for him to get a poorly tummy but then to turn into a beautiful butterfly. We also been reading about the three little pigs and how sturdy their houses were.

The Library has been closed this week, but will reopen next week. I will send a letter home on Monday explaining about reading books and expectations. Books will be coming home from next week.

This week we have been practicing our nursery rhymes and in particular ones with numbers. i.e. five current buns, which included a lovely messy bucket session using shaving foam and glitter cherries which everyone enjoyed splatting flat.
