In pine class this week we have:

- In English, we have been thinking some more about What the Ladybird Heard, including doing some fantastic writing about the story.
- In Maths we have been focusing on place value and our understanding of number – what number comes next?
- In topic we have started to think about the beach and what it looks like. We explored some sand and sandcastles and compared some different beaches.
- On Monday we had a well-being afternoon thinking about what makes us happy.
